BLESSED ILDEFONSO SCHUSTER ON THE GOSPEL:
Jesus presents Himself to us today as the "Good Shepherd" and tells us what will henceforth be His relationship with His flock. In the first place there will be a perfect understanding between the Shepherd and His sheep, the sanctity of whose souls will be based upon this interior life of intimate union with Him. The soul will keep itself in a state of recollection in order to listen to the gentle voice of the Good Shepherd when He speaks, for it is in this colloquy that it will know Jesus.

The number of Catholics is indeed limited compared to those that are not of this fold. We should note the gentle language in which our Lord speaks of those outside the Church—not a word of reproach but merely a statement of fact. Yet Christ has come to redeem all men, that, as in Adam all perished, so in Christ all may be saved. Therefore by means of His Church He goes in search of His wandering sheep. The labour is long and difficult, but we must never despair; for Jesus has foretold that the result will be successful. In spite of all the opposition of men and of devils there shall indeed be but one fold under one Shepherd.

Consecration of the Sick to Mary: O kind and good Mother, whose own soul was pierced by the sword of sorrow, look upon us while, in our sickness, we arraign ourselves beside Thee on the Calvary where Jesus hangs. Dowered with the high grace of suffering, and hopeful of fulfilling in our own flesh what is wanting in our sharing of Christ's passion, on behalf of His Mystical Body, the Church, we consecrate to Thee ourselves and our pain. We pray that Thou will place them on that Altar of the Cross to which Jesus is affixed. May they be little victims of propitiation for our salvation, for the salvation of all peoples. O Mother of Sorrows, accept this consecration. Strengthen our hopeful hearts, that as partakers of Christ's sufferings we may also share in his comfort now and for evermore. Amen.
