BLESSED ILDEFONSO SCHUSTER ON THE GOSPEL:

The Gospel (John xvi 16-22) is an extract from the sublime address of our Lord to His disciples before His apprehension. Jesus announces that He is about to leave the world, and speaks of the short interval between His death and His resurrection. This period after His resurrection, during which He shows Himself to His followers, is symbolical of our own life—it is the history of the Church militant The unbelieving world has not seen Him since the evening of Good Friday, but we who believe see Him every day in the Holy Eucharist; we converse with Him, and our life, as a brilliant noon-day, is illuminated by the rays which form His halo of glory. This joy, which comes from our nearness to Christ, cannot be taken from us, for it is purely an interior joy. It more than repays us for the suffering which the world inflicts on us as bearers of His name.

Heaven is the goal of our hopes, and for this reason the early Christian communities, following the teaching of St Peter in today's lesson, called themselves "pilgrims ".

The Gospel also voices this feeling, warning us that here on earth we shall meet only with sorrow and bitterness, whilst the world shall rejoice. But at last we shall look upon the beatific face of Jesus, when our joy shall have no end. This difference between the world and ourselves must not, however, cause feelings in our hearts of envy and contempt. We must not hate anyone, and it is our duty to endure evildoers in patience until the hour of their "visitation" also shall strike, that is, as St Peter tells us in his Epistle, when the grace of God shall triumph over their rebellious will.

Consecration of the Sick to Mary: O kind and good Mother, whose own soul was pierced by the sword of sorrow, look upon us while, in our sickness, we arraign ourselves beside Thee on the Calvary where Jesus hangs. Dowered with the high grace of suffering, and hopeful of fulfilling in our own flesh what is wanting in our sharing of Christ's passion, on behalf of His Mystical Body, the Church, we consecrate to Thee ourselves and our pain. We pray that Thou will place them on that Altar of the Cross to which Jesus is affixed. May they be little victims of propitiation for our salvation, for the salvation of all peoples. O Mother of Sorrows, accept this consecration. Strengthen our hopeful hearts, that as partakers of Christ's sufferings we may also share in his comfort now and for evermore. Amen.
